On optimal variance stopping problem

Abstract:

In the talk I will study maximization of the variance of a linear diffusion over all stopping times. First I will discuss the significance of the problem. Then I will show sufficient conditions under which the value is infinite, and give sufficient conditions under which the problem is uniquely and explicitly solvable.